By Sherry Klein

Katimavik isn't exactly a household name in Drayton Valley.

At least that's what someone involved with the federal government sees in the 17 to 25-year-old Canadians say.

"Eighty per cent of them (Katimavik) are not even here, have they idea of what it is," said one sponsor.

Bob McIntosh of the Pembina Ski Club says it's hard to relate to Katimavik unless you yourself work with the kids.

A lot of people think it is a federal job creation program for kids, which is not Katimavik's primary goal, he added.

Don Bentley, director of the Town's Parks, Recreation and Culture Department says low community awareness might have resulted because of a problem with lead time into the program.

"All of a sudden they were plunged into projects, and dropped out of sight."

He suggests that a directing board could be formed to bring all the groups involved in the program closer together.

Katimavik participants are now involved in constructing ski trails for the Pembina Ski Club, clearing the town's Parks, Recreation and Culture Department says low community awareness might have resulted because of a problem with lead time into the program.

"They're a great bunch of kids. It's interesting to watch them tackle something they've never done before," said a ski hill representative.

Drayton Community Centre representatives say their work is "fantastic."

"Eighty-five per cent of the work is done by themselves—yes, just go down and tell them what to do and they do it."

Mr. McIntosh says work at the ski trails has "generally been good," however, some problems had to be worked out regarding work expectations.

He suggests Katimavik "spend out clearly" how many participants a group can expect to have, their hours, and other details of the program, which includes some time off for schooling.

Another leader at R.W. Pelton, Mr. McIntosh says the industry also projects, which developed from a shortage of social activities for the participants, has worked out extremely well.

"I think some of the participants got on awful well out of it."

Council approves building option

Payment of $8,300 to Ryres and Hall Construction Ltd. of Edmonton for a two-month option to purchase the old post office building was approved by Drayton Valley Town Council Thursday.

The $8,300 will be applied to the $88,600 purchase price when the sale is effected.

A bylaw authorizing council to purchase the building has been given first reading. It will be advertised in the press. And it has to be approved by the Local Authorities Board.

Council will apply to the Alberta Municipal Planning Corporation for a 30-year sublease.

The library would like council to purchase the building because the library is inadequate, Mayor Nevis LaBranche said.

We will have to consider the cheapest way to renovate the building," Mayor LaBranche said.

In favor of purchasing the property, Councillor Alan Hall said the rooms now occupied by the library could be used by the recreation department when the library is relocated.

signed up for installation of cable television during QCTV's first days of customer service, company president Ed Polanski said.

He said he was pleased with the local cooperation during construction of the system, and the public acceptance of the service.

Drayton Valley is the first of 35 towns to be "wired" by QCTV, Mr. Polanski added.

"This is the result of support from the Alberta Government, Telephones, Calgary Power and the Town," Mr. Polanski said.

Within the next two years, QCTV will spend an estimated $10 to $15 million to "hook up" all the 25 towns.

"Our engineers have devised a system to expand service beyond the 25 towns," Mr. Polanski said.

Community needs larger library

The library is an embarrassment to the Town, says Read McNeely, a member of Drayton Valley Municipal Library Board.

Few will dare to disagree with Mr. McNeely. The library, now housed in a Town Hall room, is more than an embarrassment to Drayton Valley. It is a disgrace.

Over the years the board has tried to convince Drayton Valley Town Council that a more spacious facility is needed.

Now the board's goal is within sight. In fact, council has already taken the initiative to acquire the old post office building for the relocation of the library.

Price of the building, which has to be renovated, is $235,000. But the Town need not foot the bill all by itself.

The board has applied to the Alberta 75th Anniversary Committee for a $40,000 grant. It is also eligible for other grants. It is planning fund-raising campaigns. Community support is needed. And the board deserves to be supported in its efforts to undertake a worthwhile project.

A library is "food" for the mind, says board chairman Thomas Springle. Nothing is closer to the truth. Did reading make a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man?

Referring to council's approval of an option to purchase the building, Mayor Hahn says the taxpayer will never lose in this transaction because the property will appreciate in value. It is prime property centrally located.

Cost of the two-month option is $9,500, which will be applied to the purchase price. If council had acted sooner it would have acquired the building for less, we are sure. And it is this delay library members or users regret.

Data provided by the board show that libraries in Hinton, Taber, Vegreville and Wetaskiwin are accommodated in more spacious premises.

Surely, Drayton Valley deserves something better than a library that is housed in a room which has an area of only 300 square feet.

February 29 is a special day, perhaps more special for us in the Western Review than for any other people. The day that gives us a Leap Year also marked the end of an era for the monthly western and local paper, the Western Review.

February 29, 1978 was the last day of publishing of the Western Review by the Western Review Ltd. The next day, March 1, 1978, the paper came under control of Lynwood Publishers Ltd. And people are still confused, especially government people.

The Western Review, once owned by The Western Review Ltd., continued to be operated as the Western Review Ltd. continued to be a functioning company.

We got into the last of the year, largely because we took over that last number of the past office and the correspondence did not change the number on that but mostly it's just obviously related to one of its manufacturer's enterprises.

The last form we forwarded... Our readers and advertisers have been instrumental in the changes we have made.

Just about it, the growth in volume. The paper averaged 22.8 pages per issue in the year before we arrived. The average was 22.8 in the year that ended with this edition.

Our growth in large measure has paralleled that of the business community. The size of each paper is determined by the amount of advertising in it, and business people have accepted our paper as a necessary part of their business and service. That, surely, is a good thing.

But I'm still a newspaperman at heart, and I have another goal.

Our circulation figures prove the paper is accepted in the region. There's always had good circulation, and it's fair to say people must want the paper if they choose to pay for it. But the paper would close our good circulation and we would not be able to do it.

Despite the frustration of all our muted attempts at circulation, the County of Parkland and the Village of Ennisville, Ennisville and Wainwright, our total circulation has increased to 22,800 in March, 1978, to 2,117 last month. We have maintained substantial circulation in our former contract areas, and the paper will be retained.

Thank you to our advertisers, thanks for your support. I hope we'll do as much to serve in the next four years as we have in the past four.

And here's a happy Leap Year.

Guest editorial Dispelling myths about tobacco

People are not totally reasonable. Those who like to perpetuate the anti-tobacco myth that people will change their behavior if shown the facts, would do well to look at those who serve the tobacco industry.

Major medical or health agency questions the fact that each year 30,000 Canadians die prematurely from the effects of smoking.

If some new food additive, automobile defect or drug—except alcohol, of course—could be linked to emphysema, cancer, bronchitis, lung cancer and heart disease as closely as has cigarette smoking, a public safety would explode and perhaps even the government would be spurred into action.

But the tobacco industry has long known the facts.

In the late 1940s and early 1970s smoking rates began to decline, except for teenagers, especially those in their early 20s. But they did enough to cause their mortality, those untold thousands of children and adolescents who succumb to the endless stream of scientific evidence, while being convinced to keep inhaling.

The theory of chemical substances associated with cigarette smoking—tar, nicotine, carbon monoxide, cadmium, nitrogen dioxide, ammonia, formaldehyde, hydrogen cyanide, and others—has been proven to be the deadliest stream of scientific evidence, while being convinced to keep inhaling.

The theory of chemical substances associated with cigarette smoking—tar, nicotine, carbon monoxide, cadmium, nitrogen dioxide, ammonia, formaldehyde, hydrogen cyanide, and others—has been proven to be the deadliest stream of scientific evidence, while being convinced to keep inhaling.

But the counter-offensive is under way. Tired of being lost in a heavy-eyed haze, many non-smokers are becoming downright aggressive, forcing people to demand their right to breathe clean air.

The non-smokers and anti-smoking groups have won the battle of the law, perhaps those short on height and years will get the point and prove that they are not short on brains.

Aged singles discriminated against

Dear Editor:

I am writing on behalf of the people of Canada, between the ages of 60 and 65, who are single widows.

widowers, and others, who have not been eligible for an old age pension's Allowance since 1981, because they were not married to an old age pensioner spouse.

Afterwards until the death of the pensioner, and last year extended this to six months after the death of the pensioner, but have given nothing to single widows and widowers over 60.

This has been a great discriminatory injustice to the Canadian government, and a violation of human rights legislation by making a social program.

It had been when the Conservatives came into power, they would really do more to help the poor, but was very disappointed and angry to find that discrimination and injustice will be over.

After the spouse has died, even beyond the six-month period, still the person in need of help.

This is adding insult to injury because the person whose spouse has died in single and is in the very same situation as the widows, widowers and others, who have lost their spouse.

Good words, "Have no compassion and no mercy for those who are in need of help."

Very sincerely,

'Metric — ain't for me'

Dear Editor:

In the current Canadian news over metrication I would like to prefer the average citizen's feelings in the following points.

To follow its mess-ups is not amusing. And using decimals is live of frustration.

Because from the second it takes to do it, it's not directly related.

And when it comes to metrication, it's not directly related.

It has itself in terrible the many times have its standards changed.

Forcing the values is to be rearranged. I can hardly deal with time when I'm not sure of the time.

Mr. Metric, You Ain't For Me! The metric system is quite confusing.

Reviewpoint

By Roland Lim

A week has already elapsed since the federal election on Feb. 18, but observers of political events are still analyzing the outcome of the election. Former politicians people, but are the most and common in public life really puzzled?

The most powerful man are not possible. The public want is a close, it is private life that governs the world. The world talks much of the powerful sovereigns and great ministers, and it being talked about made one powerful, they would be invisible, but the fact is, the more you are talked about, the less powerful you are.

How this wasn't told by someone hungry for power. This was said by Lord Bunsford or Benjamin Disraeli as he was known until he was made a peer of 72.

In 19th century England, Disraeli won several times as chancellor of the exchequer and prime minister. It was a century when the British Empire was at its height.

Just as today as the political affairs are two Liberal Members of Parliament.

Ugled Anwerthy, MP for Winnipeg, Fort Garry, and Robert Bouchard, MP for St. Boniface, are having a close race of winning to get something out of the federal government. Mr. Bouchard will, I guess, after Drayton Valley since his blue shirt shows of teeth.

If they are coming to consult with Lewis Stort, the defeated Liberal candidate in Yellowknife, they should try to stop over in Drayton Valley and have a cup of tea with Mayor Hahn.

I am sure a Liberal as faithful as Mayor Labrecque will have a lot to tell the Liberal government's voters. They can return to Ottawa to tell the Liberal government's voters. They can return to Ottawa to tell the Liberal government's voters.

Former Premier Labrecque was not nothing in his day in an old town, nothing in his day in an old town, nothing in his day in an old town.

It is to attend this tea party, but Mayor Labrecque can get something out of the federal government. Mr. Bouchard will, I guess, after Drayton Valley since his blue shirt shows of teeth.

Library serving more members

Drayton Valley Municipal Library has 681 members this year, up from 588 members in 1979.

The book circulation increased by approximately 50 per cent last year, new literature Val University. In 1979 library members borrowed 7,000 books. Last year the library lent out 10,487 books.

"We're a small library," says Mrs. Urchysky, its operating expenditures are paid for by the municipality. The town will contribute approximately $10,000 of the library's $12,000 operating budget for 1980. Mrs. Urchysky estimates that the other funds will help balance the budget.

The library has a collection of 4,800 volumes, but because of limited space, the library had to hold a book sale in November to make room for new books. In 1979 the library was allocated $2,832 for the purchase of books.

Frank Maddock High School students frequently use the book which the library has in its collection, Mrs. Urchysky said.

"We have a very good collection of law books," Mrs. Urchysky said.

Started in 1966 by the Women's Institute, the library has been located in the Town Hall since 1980. In 1961 it was a municipal library with a paid librarian.

In its early days, it was manned by volunteers. A board which the library presented to Drayton Valley Town Council, twice in recent years states the present library is inadequate.

Joining the Yellowhead Regional Library System in April, 1977, the library increased its per capita grant.

As a member library of the regional system, it is also eligible for a portion of the per capita grant given by the provincial government.

In lobbying for more equipment, the library board has furnished cost data concerning other libraries in towns of comparable size.

Hinton, with a population of 6,507, has a library which has an area of 3,800 square feet. The library's population is 12,280 books.

The Yellowhead library has a collection of 13,000 books housed in an area of 1,500 square feet. The library's population is 12,280 books.

Serving a population of 4,101, the Vegreville library has 12,500 books. Area of the library is 2,800 square feet. The Drayton Valley is library has an area of only 600 square feet.

There are plans to acquire the old post office building for the library. Members of the library board are chairman Thomas Spiering, Tim Melnyk.

Conservatives meet in Warburg

The regular monthly meeting of the Drayton Valley Progressive Conservative Association was held in Warburg under Chairman's Office on Feb. 14. Approximately 70 people attended. Consensus of members was discussed.

The first concern raised was the upgrading of Highway 778 from Warburg to the Gommie bridge.

Rural P.O. Saturday closings to be studied

OTAWA—Closing mail rural post offices on Saturdays will not be done in Canada. Post policy will be overall study of rural mail service is completed, Postmaster General John A. Fraser said.

The Canadian Association of Postmasters and Associates will be extensively consulted on the study and its implications before any policy decision is made, Mr. Fraser said in a statement.

"Canada Post, in its continuous study of supply, service requirements and customer needs, is currently looking at the feasibility of continuing Saturday service in the smaller rural post offices," Mr. Fraser said.

Fifteen delegates will attend the annual meeting to be held from April 11 to 13 in Edmonton. There is still room for 30 more delegates.

Spring building construction scheduled

By Dorothy Gordon

Approximately 25 members of the Bretton and District Chamber of Commerce gathered at the Community Hall Feb. 26 for their annual meeting.

Chamber president Marjorie Ross and construction of an I.D.A. supermarket is slated to commence in spring.

The supermarket will be operated by Christian.

Eight leaders for the construction of Spruce View Court were received. The building will provide senior citizens with self-contained units. Work will start in spring.

Expected to serve a second year were Maurice Ross, chairman; Mary Ross, secretary; John Wachob, secretary; Lloyd Pollock, secretary; and Wendy Fisher, director.

But Wilson and Wally Adams, directors of the Chamber, presented a resolution to the Chamber of Commerce, which was to be held by the Bretton and District Chamber of Commerce on March 3.

Eat fit—feel fit

Teenage girls and women over 20 years of age are advised to eat a diet of fruits, vegetables, and whole grains. The problem of overweight is a major one for many girls and women, but it is not a life sentence. In controlling one's weight, there are two main considerations: diet and exercise.

Remember "Eat fit—feel fit" is the theme of the Nutrition Week March 3 to 5. It is a beautiful way of living for all people.

By increasing one's energy in participating in a daily exercise program, one will benefit greatly. One will not only lose weight, but will also increase the level of physical fitness.

Yellowhead playoffs underway

Flyers come 'back to life'

The local all-star Blues crossed Hinton Saturday in the arena and after a close contest Hinton edged Drayton Valley 6-3.

It wasn't easy, but the Flyers finally broke their six-game losing streak last week.

During a "high scoring" game, which Feb. 18 game against New Horizons, Drayton Valley's senior men's hockey team came from behind to win 10-6 and finish the season with 10 wins, 11 losses, and one tie for 21 points.

The Flyers are currently tied with the Yellowhead team in the Yellowhead standings, which could change, depending on the outcome of upcoming Whitecourt and Spruce Grove games.

New Horizons dominated the first period of play in the Feb. 18 game, although the Flyers' Al Moore managed one goal to make the score 6-1.

New Horizons scored another quick goal in the second period, but then the Flyers came back to life with two goal performances by Ron Bartak, Kevin Bunker and Kevin Henry, and singles by Jacobson and Mike Kowalski.

The period ended with the score tied at 6-6. In the third period, New Horizons scored again, but then the Flyers "started to fly again," says a team spokesman.

Bartak and Henry each scored two goals, followed by singles from Bartak and Bob Whaley. The last two goals were scored on an open net, when New Horizons pulled their goalie for extra defence.

There were a total of 18 penalties called out, the Flyers receiving seven of them. The line of Bartak, Bunker and Henry really came back to life. Bartak and Bunker chalked up eight points each, while Henry scored three goals and picked up six assists.

Even though the Flyers were kept virtually out of the scoreboard in a Saturday game against the Hinton Hawks, they "were never out of it."

The Flyers' spokesman says Hinton's goals, picked up from the Jasper Hawks for the playoffs, played a "crucial" game, and finished the Flyers to two goals by Bartak and Bunker.

Hinton, however, had "excellent forechecking," and scored 12 goals to win the two-game total-point series 21-6. Hinton had previously beaten the Flyers 6-1.

With this loss, the Flyers now drop into the D division, and will play the home of the weekend's Fort McMurray Edmonton Oilers series.

The winner of this series will be up against the Bonanza Aces, and the weekend's Fort McMurray Edmonton Oilers series.
